

12:53 PM
(43
minutes ago)

Wanzl/Technibilt ran a campaign on me which means no one should have anything to do with them--I failed to become a social media superstar--Wanzl was run by idiots like Blake Guffey who never did a fucking thing for industry. Catawba County is flooded with stupid people on drugs--my first fifteen minutes at Kontane Logistics was dope and I would leave because of dope with Wanzl.

What I didn't know until someone ran a table into me with a forklift was that no one had a license to drive a forklift--it's clear Wanzl has failed to mention that to anyone--how in the flying fuck did Wanzl wind-up in my life again? Have you all lost your fucking minds? What kind of brainwashed bullshit is this? Wanzl fought for a year to remain stupid--the NCDOL had to make those stupid fucks get everyone certified to drive forklifts--as a result of no OSHA people ran forklifts into things--I had someone run something into me, actually, so quit. I was told by Wanzl that there would be nothing I would ever do about it. I considered killing Felix Chavez but decided to just quit--then I got a bad report from Wanzl and Pro Bimbos in Conover--who I have upgraded to Pro Cunts since. They all got together to fuck me is what they did--saving potheads like James McGill, Felix Chavez and Shannon Hale--the latter is in management there. There's a fucking moron that comes to the Ridgview library; he sometimes and too often reeks of weed--he should apply for Wanzl management because Shannon Hale was identical. No one has ever said anything about the two; I am looking into a CDL Program apparently linked to NCWorks. Wanzl also did not hire me when they should; other people have been temps there for a fucking year--a year thanks aw